

HENRY FORD HAS NO CHANCE IN 1924 CAMPAIGN

More Than Business Acumen Needed To Make Statesman, Lawrence Says

IGNORANT OF U. S. HISTORY

Unpopular With Veterans As Father Of Alleged Draft Dodger

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
(This is the fourth of the series of nine articles by David Lawrence on presidential possibilities and impossibilities giving an appraisal of the political assets and liabilities of the men most talked about today for the Republican and Democratic nominations. Mr. Lawrence has just finished a tour of the western part of the United States with President Harding and is now enroute to Europe to make a detailed survey of reconstruction problems there. At the conclusion of this series, Mr. Lawrence's daily cables from Europe will be in exclusively in the Post-Crescent.)

He has dealers in every city and town in America.

He makes a commodity that almost everybody uses—men, women and children.

He is known from one end of the country to the other.

You might assume from this description that Henry Ford is the man. He is. But these three statements fit equally well and apply to Bill Wigley, the chewing gum king. Yet neither he nor Gillette, the safety razor man, is being boomed for the presidency.

People who are unfamiliar with the inside workings of American political parties have jumped to the conclusion that all that is necessary for a nomination is that the man should be widely known and that he should have some semblance of an organization throughout the country. Nothing could be further from the truth. The history of American politics reveals that at no time has any political personality sprung to the front in a presidential contest without some conspicuous public service behind him.

The American legion would probably never support a man for the presidency whose son had been accused of draft evasion in the "World War." If Henry Ford should become a candidate for the presidency, it is almost certain that one or the other of his opponents of the political world opposing him would revive the controversy over Edsel Ford.

RELIGIOUS BIGOTRY

Henry Ford boasts of his bigotry on religion. His campaign against the Jews is in conformity with one of the principles of the Ku Klux Klan. And whether the Klan is a good or a bad thing, it is certain that he would be given the label of the Klan by political opponents.

FORD'S CHANCES

Henry Ford has never been elected to any office of public trust in America. He has several assets politically speaking but he also has many liabilities.

Here are his strong points: He is a self made man. He has had a remarkable career in business and has done almost the impossible in the financing of his own business. The farmers of the country are aching for some Moses to lead them out of their wilderness and the name of Ford catches their imagination.

Here are Henry Ford's political liabilities: Henry Ford can never be elected president of the United States because he cannot poll enough electoral votes, but he possesses the power and the money to make trouble for the two political parties—and they are beginning to recognize it. Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York state, and at one time chairman of the Republican national committee, and secretary to President Taft, has already issued a blast against Ford. It would not be surprising if some of the leading Democratic political leaders did the same. They would make common cause against Ford and it is all because none of them believes he has the capacity to hold an elective office, such as that of the presidency. He would have fared better if he had been elected to the United States senate or if he had run for governor of Michigan and demonstrated his ability to conduct a public office as well as he can manage a private business.

North Dakota Storm Causes Three Deaths

Fargo, N. D.—At least three persons were killed and damage estimated at $150,000 was done by terrific wind, hail and rain storms which swept over the north central and northeastern part of North Dakota late yesterday, according to reports reaching here today.

Oscar Bratholm, 15, of Fargo, and Ray Dorffelt, 34, of Center, were killed by lightning. Mrs. Carl Soderick, 60, living near Goodrich, suffered a broken neck when the roof of her sod house was thrown on her. Much property damage was done in Oliver, Mercer and Dunn counties, while at Carrington, Sykeston, Cathaway, Barlow and Turtle Lake barns were wrecked and trees uprooted.

West Point Blast Kills Badger Lad

By Associated Press

West Point, N. Y.—Gerhard George Rowe, a member of the graduating class of the United States Military academy, whose home was in Menominee, Wis., was killed near here Monday when he was struck in the chest by a piece of metal projected by an explosive charge.

He was one of a party of students from the academy engaged in military instruction. A section of railroad had been constructed and the cadets were being taught the method of destroying a railroad if compelled to retreat. When the explosives had been placed under the tracks the students were directed to take cover. Cadet Rowe, who was said to have been over-anxious stepped from behind a tree the instant the charge went off.

U. S. EYES ON SENATE FIGHT IN MINNESOTA

July 16, Election May Have Bearing On Next National Campaign

By Associated Press

St. Paul, Minn.—Outcome of the Minnesota senatorial election on July 16, will be watched in national political circles as possibly having a bearing on the next presidential election. It was said by some political observers here Tuesday. The trend of the Republican vote for Governor J. A. O. Preus and that for Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborite, political dogsters declare, will give them a good indication of the sentiment of the people, at least in this section of the country, on the policies of the present Republican national administration.

Governor Preus has the endorsement of the administration and he approves its program and action. Johnson opposes the Harding platform.

If the Farmer-Labor party elects its man to the seat left vacant by the death of Senator Knute Nelson and polls a large vote, it is expected by party leaders to greatly aid the federated Farmer-Labor party.

CHURCHES DEMAND DRY ENFORCEMENT

Protestant Officials Say Prohibition Law Systematically Defied

By Associated Press

Chicago—A statement and an appeal of church officials to members and adherents of Protestant churches saying that prohibition is being systematically impugned and defied by selfish interests, was made public Tuesday by Dr. Deets Pickett, research secretary, Board of Temperance and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church through the committee on conservation and advance here.

"Prohibition established by orderly process at the ballot box is being systematically impugned and defied by selfish interests," the statement said. "All influences, no simply un-American, but in many cases anti-American, propose to establish a condition of nullification of the prohibition law."

"These men are not now making a direct attack upon the prohibition amendment as they know that such an attempt would be fruitless. What they desire is to weaken enforcement of the law, to encourage its violation, to incite hostility to it by subtle facts, false rumors, and distorted facts. It is particularly their object at the forthcoming and succeeding congressional sessions to weaken enforcement of prohibition by unjust criticism and hampering by unjust administration of the law."

The Christian people of this country demand that all political parties shall declare for full enforcement of prohibition and against any weakening of the national prohibition act.

ELEPHANT SEIZED TO PAY HOSPITAL BILL

Schenectady, N. Y.—Ellis hospital obtained a writ of attachment against an elephant owned by a circus exhibiting here in lieu of a bill owed since last year.

The circus became indebted to the hospital for $104 for caring for an employee when the show was here a year ago. Three sheriff was given the papers and he seized the elephant.

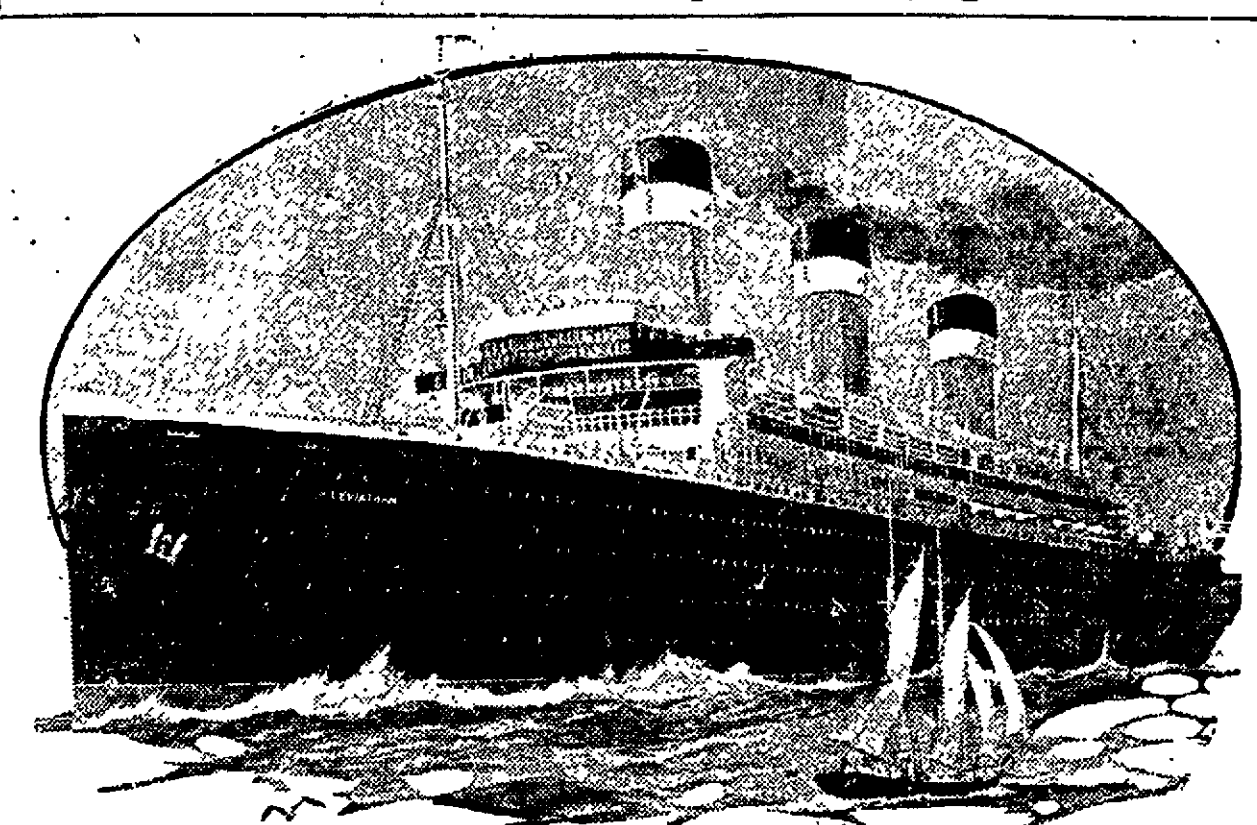

The case will be heard at the fall term of Supreme court.

WEEKLY EDITORS END BADGER TOUR

Wisconsin News Men View Sturgeon Bay Cherry Orchards

By Associated Press

Sturgeon Bay, Wis.—The Wisconsin Press association, before concluding its third annual "know Wisconsin" tour, went on an 80 mile jaunt through the wonderland of Wisconsin in the Door-o peninsula. "Natives of that part of the state refer to their country as the 'Japan of Wisconsin' and the 'California of the middle west,' because of its beauty of natural surroundings and the recent expansion of the fruit growing industry."

"Fruit crops of principally cherries, which are being harvested, are soon to be harvested. The growers expect to pick 7,000,000 quarts of the luscious crimson cherries this season, which begins about July 12. The great development in the fruit industry astonished the editors for it was only a short time ago when the land in this section was thought altogether unfit for agriculture. They viewed what is known as the largest cherry orchard in the world."

The tour of the editors brought them along the beautiful lakeshore where Wisconsin's largest public grounds are located. The people of Sturgeon Bay are promulgating a plan whereby a large tract of federal timber land will be turned over into a national park. The editors were urged to promote this project.

Major Martin of Sturgeon Bay surprised the editors when he said that Doorco did not want a railroad to run through its forty mile peninsula. He declared that the county on several occasions has rejected such proposals.

Mr. Martin said that good roads and automobiles take the place of railroads. He said this section is a point of interest for tourists and that there is a large number of resorts and scenery in abundance.

At a gathering of the newspaper men Monday night in Sturgeon Bay, Professor Andrew Hopkins urged a sound cooperation between country weekly and agricultural interests. President John Kyper, DePere led the Press association on to his home city Tuesday where the final session was held before departing after their 200 mile automobile tour.

NITTY JURY SENDS WOMAN TO GALLOWES

Italian Murderess Is First Woman To Receive Death Sentence In Illinois

Chicago—Twelve jurors branded Mrs. Sabella Nitti "husband killer" and established a precedent for the state of Illinois Monday afternoon by giving the death penalty to the dumb, crouching, animal-like Italian peasant, found guilty of the murder of Frank Nitti. The jury then returned a death verdict for Peter Crudele, Mrs. Nitti's co-defendant, former lover, and second husband.

A few hours earlier, in New York city, Mrs. Anna Buzell was sentenced to die in the electric chair during the week of August 6 for the murder of Frederick Schneider, with whom she had lived for eight years.

COOK TELLING HER

Madison—Milton D. Smith's closing argument to "forget that defendant is a woman," and gave her the noose after deliberating only an hour and forty-seven minutes. But at midnight last night no one had been found willing to tell Sabella that she was the first woman in the state to have a hangman's noose made legally ready for her.

All evening the greasy woman moaned and gibbered in her Sicilian dialect for some one to tell her what "those men said," and how many months she would have to stay in the jail.

Bahamas Flood U.S. With Illicit Booze

Chicago—Run running along the south Atlantic seaboard has assumed such tremendous proportions that the inhabitants of poverty stricken little islands have become rich overnight and the section has become known as "bootleggers' paradise," the Chicago Daily News said Tuesday in a copyrighted article describing conditions along the Florida coast.

In the city of Nassau alone, the article said, official clearings of liquor bound for the U. S. increased from 37,531 gallons in 1917 to 1,340,443 gallons in 1922. The writer, accompanied by a bootlegger named "Terry" as guide, told of visiting the rum fleets, talking with the rum-runners, helping transport the liquor, and of distributing it in the United States.

Miami, first stop of the investigators, was described as "a city where, if you feel the need of a drink and don't happen to have your own flask with you, all you need to do is wait in the shade of a palm tree until a resident comes along, ask him where you can find a bootlegger, and if he isn't one himself, he will tell you where to go. You can buy all the whiskey you want in Miami at $5 a quart."

Havana and Nassau were described as, but two of the ports that were flooding the United States with liquor, some of it from American distilleries. The Bahamas, poverty stricken before prohibition, and with revenues from all sources of less than a million dollars, realized $2,738,000 in 1922 in duties from liquor shipped into the United States, the article said, quoting a Nassau official who added that estimating that the 1,340,443 gallons of liquor cleared from the Bahamas for the United States was diluted fifty per cent, this would mean that over 2,000,000 gallons of liquor were placed on the market in this country from the Bahamas alone.

While prohibition officials are seizing sealed liquor brought into their hands by legitimate ocean going vessels, the article said, there are but two small cutters to guard the 1,200 miles of Florida coast. "All made to order for rum running."

One of the two revenue cutters works out of Key West, the other out of Miami, the article stated. A bootlegger at Key West quoted by the writer said the cutter at that point had made no real captures for three years. Once the revenue cutter and a rum runner were tied up nose to nose at Miami, said the article, the rum runner laden with 40,000 cases of liquor for Miami.

U.S. Rules Ships Must Forfeit Rum

Washington—Forfeiture proceedings were decided on by treasury and prohibition officials Tuesday as the means of disposing of liquor seized from ships violating the prohibition law. Libel suits will be brought against the contraband liquor. It was announced and not against the ship or commander bringing it in.

CITIES MUST HAVE SEALER OF WEIGHTS

Madison—Mayors of cities of five thousand population or more, who fail to appoint a city sealer of weights and measures are guilty of violation of the statutes covering this subject, and can be prosecuted accordingly, an opinion of the attorney general's department submitted to the department of weights and measures holds. However, according to the opinion, users of unsealed weights and measures in cities where there is no sealer can not be prosecuted.

In another opinion rendered to the board of control, it is held that state employees, including legislators, can buy suits of clothes made in the state reformatory from the board of control provided such purchases do not exceed $100 a year.

CAPTAIN COOK INDICTED FOR USING MAIL IN FRAUD

BLAINE SCORES PRESENT MODE OF LAW MAKING

Executive Cites Futility Of Bill Presented By Senate Judiciary Body

By Associated Press

Madison—The introduction of bills by committees instead of by individual members of the legislature is deplored by Governor Blaine in a statement Tuesday in which he says such practice "has become the rule rather than the exception."

"The result of this practice is to make it quite impossible for the executive to ascertain from what individual source such bills originated," the statement declares. "It is clearly impossible for the executive in the final jam of the legislation with the legislature adjourned, to seek out the author of the bill and to be thrown upon a bill so introduced as to the author's intent or purpose."

The occasion of the statement was the executive's veto of the senate judiciary committee bill relating to discontinuance of proceedings commenced by municipalities to acquire property of public utilities under the provisions of chapter 87 of the revised statutes. Governor Blaine held that "as the act does not apply to any actions pending in the Daneo circuit court or in the supreme court, there is nothing to which it can apply and no reason suggests itself why the measure should be added to the body of statute laws." The bill is referred to as a "unique example of legislative futility."

COURT CALLS FOR GAFFNEY RECORDS

Writs Of Certiorari Served On Badger Brokers' Board In Green Bay Case

By Associated Press

Madison—Writs of certiorari have been served on the Wisconsin real estate brokers' board calling for the return of the records for review by the Daneo circuit court of the decisions of the board revoking the real estate brokers' licenses of Dan E. Gaffney and the Fox River Land and Loan company, a corporation of Green Bay.

The review of the record in the Gaffney case is of interest, as one of the questions raised is the responsibility accepted by a broker under multiple listing contracts, which are contracts entered whereby listing one broker who is a member of a real estate association becomes a listing for all the members of that association. In the case under which the revocations were ordered, the Fox River Land and Loan company had the listing and because of the multiple listing agreements of the Green Bay real estate board, Mr. Gaffney, as a member of that board, it was held by the Wisconsin real estate brokers' board, also assumed an agency relation to the owner of the property.

FISHERMEN TAKE UP SEARCH FOR AIRMAN

Port Stanley Fishers Seek Body Of Balloon Officer Lost On Lake

Cleveland, O.—The body of Lieutenant Louis J. Roth, pilot of the naval balloon A-6695 in the national climatology race, which sailed from Indianapolis July 4, rested in an undertaker's establishment here Tuesday pending receipt of instructions from Washington as to its disposition.

The body was brought here Monday night from Port Stanley, Ont., on the flying boat Nina of the Aero Marine Airways company.

OFFICIAL SEARCH ENDS

Port Stanley, Ont.—The fishermen of Port Stanley were out on Lake Erie, Tuesday, gathering their catches—and scanning the surface for Lieutenant T. R. Null missing aeronaut, or his body.

Organized search for Lieutenant Null, companion in the naval balloon A-6695 of Lieutenant L. J. Roth, whose body was found in the balloon basket Monday has virtually been abandoned, but the smaller craft are slowly patrolling the fishing grounds, hopeful of writing the final chapter to the story that began at Indianapolis, July 4, when the A-6695 with other balloons started in the national climatology race.

Some of those who studied fragments of the water-soaked log of the A-6695 found in the wreckage of the balloon when it was picked up Saturday pretend to see in the few decipherable entries an heroic epic of lake and air.

Many dignitaries including members of the federal supreme court and the state supreme court and various bar associations are expected for the funeral.

Dog Fights Bull To Save His Master

While after his cows in the pasture Sunday morning, Thomas Landers of Grand Chute was attacked by his bull which knocked him down and repeatedly attempted to gore him while he was on the ground. He credits his escape to an attack made upon the animal by his small dog which momentarily attracted the animal's attention, making it possible for him to reach a tree.

His daughters Elene and Annette were the only members of his family that heard his call for help and they immediately went to his rescue. His injuries were confined to bruises and lacerations.

His son James cut his foot with an axe one day last week and has since been confined to his home.

PREACHER SAYS HIS KISS WAS PATERNAL

Naval Officer Beats Clergyman For Alleged Display Of Fatherly Love

By Associated Press

Boston, Mass.—Wesley MacLaren, U. S. N., admitted Tuesday he had engaged in a scuffle with the Rev. George Lyman Paine Monday in which he knocked the clergyman through a glass panel of a door in the office of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches on Beacon-st. He said his anger had been aroused when the clergyman, after admitting that he had kissed the Lieutenant's bride of two months, had insisted that it was merely a display of fatherly affection.

"I believed he needed a thrashing and I gave it to him," said Lieutenant Hague, "I consider the matter had ended right there and want it to end there."

The Rev. Mr. Paine, who is executive secretary of the church federation, said Hague had attacked him through a misunderstanding of occurrences while the Lieutenant was on duty at Baltimore. He officiated at the marriage of the Lieutenant to Miss Priscilla Redgrave of Baltimore while he was assistant pastor of the Episcopal church, Cambridge. Shortly before the marriage he baptized Miss Redgrave and he says that when he kissed her after this ceremony Lieutenant Hague did not offer a protest.

While the Lieutenant was away the Rev. Mr. Paine took Mrs. Hague for an automobile ride to Belmont. He admits that while they were going through a meadow he kissed her on the cheek.

ARMY AGE MAY TRY AGAIN NEXT WEEK

By Associated Press

St. Joseph, Mo.—Retains were proceeding Tuesday on the airplane in which Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan Monday attempted a dawn-to-dusk flight from New York to San Francisco. A short turn in avoiding a cow as he was forced down near St. Joseph, to correct engine trouble, prevented a part of the landing gear. Lieutenant Maughan indicated he probably would fly back to New York Wednesday in preparation for a fresh attempt at the transcontinental flight within a week.

WEATHER ONE DEAD PROPERTY

William Paradise, Farmer, Drops Deed While Haying

LIGHTNING FIRE RUINS BARN

Shiocton Lutheran Church And Andrews Residence Are Damaged

One death from prostration, the destruction by lightning of a barn and silo, and damaging of a church and residence were part of the toll of the intense heat of Monday and the electrical storm Tuesday morning. William Paradise, a farmer near Shiocton, fell dead while haying. Flames caused by lightning consumed a barn and silo at the Fred C. Wickman farm, five miles from Seymour, and bolts caused damage to Shiocton Lutheran church and the home of Howard Andrews, also of Shiocton.

Mr. Paradise, 47, had been working in the hay field in the hot sun part of the day. He had finished loading a wagon about 2:30 Monday afternoon and after he had climbed to the top he fell over. Death was due to heart disease, the heat hastened his end the physician said.

The decedent was born in Somersetshire, England, in 1876. He was married at Seymour in 1897 to Miss Mabel Trader of that place. The couple have lived in town of Bovina ever since.

Mr. Paradise is survived by his widow and four children, William, Hurley, Lyda, Appleton, Blanche, Shiocton; Mrs. William MacLaughlin, New London; one sister, Mrs. Mary Wilder, Wittenberg; two brothers, Harry, Green Bay; Albert, Black Creek.

The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home with the Rev. G. W. Lester, pastor of Seymour Methodist church, in charge. Burial will be made in Shiocton cemetery.

Lightning during the heavy shower early Tuesday morning traveled down the chimney of Shiocton Lutheran church and tore a large hole in the wall. Plaster was scattered in every direction, and the interior of the edifice looked like the wreckage left by a cyclone.

Another bolt struck the Howard Andrews residence. It entered the bathroom, where it tore up part of the hardwood floor and scattered the pieces all over that portion of the house. The occupants of the home were not injured.

A barn belonging to Fred C. Wickman, five miles south of Seymour on rural route 4 and highway C, was destroyed by lightning at 5:30 Tuesday morning. A calf and 13 ducks were cremated. The stove silo adjoining the barn also was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $4,000 which was about half covered by insurance.

The barn was 48 by 72 feet in size and 35 feet high. It contained two loads of hay, 15 loads of straw and two sets of double harnesses which were included in the loss. Mr. Wickman's herd of cows were in the barn a short time before it was struck but had wandered into an adjoining field and the owner was after them when he first observed the fire.

The building and contents burned rapidly and the heat was so intense it destroyed the larger part of Mr. Wickman's garden near by.

The building was protected by lightning rods. The owner intends to rebuild at once.

Medicinal
The stomach content of John Strand, Prairie Du Chien, carpenter, believed to have been murdered by poisoning last Thursday, has been turned over to Dr. A. S. Loewenhart, university toxicologist, but the analysis is being delayed because of lack of authority.
Unless Governor Blaine signs the bill passed by the recent legislature creating the office of state toxicologist, and a request for the investigation is made by the district attorney of Crawford-co, Dr. Loewenhart says he cannot begin work.

KITCHEN WRECKED WHEN

A gas stove in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Klaus, 1030 Lake-st., exploded Sunday afternoon. There was no one in the room to be injured, but the kitchen was considerably wrecked. The explosion resulted from a faulty gas lighter.

GRAND CHUTE SCHOOL CLOSED; TOO FEW PUPILS
There will be no school sessions in Columbia school, District No. 5, Grand Chute, next year. At the annual meeting of the school district last Monday evening it was decided to close the school for a year, on account of the small attendance. The few children who attended will now go to Sandy slope school of District No. 6.

WORK IS UNDER WAY ON COUNTY TRUNK ROAD E
Work is progressing on improvement of county trunk line E in the town of Oneda, for which the county has appropriated $10,000. The grading is practically done and culverts are nearly completed. County crews are now setting up the stone crusher which will be in operation in a few days. It was expected that the $10,000 appropriation would pave about three miles of road.

DEMAND IS HEAVY HERE FOR FISHING LICENSES
That strangers are finding this fishing season a more profitable one than last year is seen in the increased number of nonresident fishing licenses issued by John E. Hantschel, county clerk. He has issued 16 of these licenses within the last two weeks, and also 16 prior to that during the present season. He has exhausted the supply sent him by the conservation commissioner and sent for more licenses. A few local sport stores have also been issuing the licenses.

STALLED DRIVER FORGOT TO LOOK IN GAS TANK
When a Greenville farmer's Ford car stalled on a country highway Sunday afternoon, and after the owner had looked over nearly everything to find where the trouble lay, he called out a garage man to doctor up Lizzale. The first thing he did was examine the gas tank. "Say," he remarked, "the old lady thinks she needs a drink as well as you do." It was one place the farmer did not think of looking.

CAPT. GRUNDEMAN IS HIGH GUN AT RIFLE TOURNEY

Company D Wins Second Place In Fox Valley Competition

Capt. E. F. Grundeman shot the high individual score at the annual contest of the Fox River Valley Rifle and Pistol club at the range on the Charles Dornel property at Oshkosh Sunday and the team from Co. D of Appleton won second place. Capt. Grundeman, who is a guardsman with years of shooting experience, shot 313 out of a possible 350, while the team shot 2,230 out of a possible 3,500.

The cavalry unit of Neenah won first place and the championship cup of the club, shooting 2,506 out of a possible 3,500. Third place went to Co. H of Oshkosh and fourth place to Co. G of Neenah. Six teams from the three cities took part in the rifle events, the pistol shooting having been dispensed with at this shoot. It is possible that a pistol competition will be held later.

NEW OWNERS OF ARCADE NOW ARE IN POSSESSION

The new proprietors of the Arcade, bowling and billiard parlors at 623 Appleton-st have settled in their quarters. They took over the stock recently from Al Jense and took possession of the establishment on July 1. They are John Voltmer, formerly of Galva, Ia., and S. W. Cole, Chicago.

POLLEY, SHOT BY WORKMAN, RETURNS TO HIS POSITION

H. E. Polley, formerly principal of First district school, Appleton, has returned to his position as head of the welfare and employment departments at the Paine Lumber company plant at Oshkosh. He has been spending several weeks at his summer home recovering following an injury suffered in May when he was shot in the chest by John Klevens, an employee of the plant. Mr. Polley experienced a severe nervous collapse several days after the danger point from infection had passed.

RUSHING WATER BLOWS LID OF JONES PARK MANHOLE

Jones park baseball diamond was flooded Tuesday morning by the rain-storm. The rush of water through the sewer blew the lid off the manhole and in a few minutes the entire park was under a foot or more of water. When the water receded it left the ground covered with garbage and other refuse.

SUMMER SCHEDULE IN EFFECT AT ST. MARY'S

Four low masses are being said each Sunday at St. Mary church during the summer. The first one is at 6 o'clock and the others are at the regular scheduled time, 7:30, 8:15 and 10:30. The early mass was added to the regular number because of the congestion in the church during the summer at the 7:30 service.

LITTLE CHUTE POST OF LEGION GROWING

Campaign Swells Membership To 90—Pettigrew Speaks To Veterans

Jacob Coppus post of the American Legion at Little Chute has become the second largest in Outagamie-co. as the result of its membership drive, according to reports submitted at a meeting Monday evening at which Henry J. Pettigrew, commander of Onev Johnston post of Appleton, was the speaker.

The campaign has brought the total membership to 90 and there are prospects of adding more. The post plans a picnic in August and also will exhibit the motion picture, "A Man Without a Country" in a Little Chute theater soon.

Mr. Pettigrew suggested a booster meeting at which the legion members and business men should get together to talk over community problems and welfare. The Little Chute post approved this idea and will arrange a dinner at an early date.

The speaker also reiterated the principles and purposes of the legion and described its work, especially for the benefit of the new members who were present. He commended the veterans and the splendid showing they were making and for the "pep" their post exhibited.

C. OF C. TO HOUSE MICHIGAN BOYS

Entertainment Will Be Provided Youths Here On Dairying Inspection

Arrangements will be made soon by the chamber of commerce for entertaining boys of Michigan calf clubs who will visit Appleton Aug. 16 and 17 while on a tour of Wisconsin dairying localities.

Some place is sought by the chamber where the boys may have shelter overnight. They carry their own cots and bedding. Some local buildings probably will be engaged.

The visitors will be escorted to leading dairy farms of the county by Robert A. Amundsen, county agricultural agent. They come here after spending a night at Green Bay, and will leave this city for Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. They also will visit Milwaukee, several southern counties and the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

SHUMAN INDUSTRY TALK TO BE ISSUED IN BOOKLET

Valuable suggestions on building up Appleton industrially as expressed by R. E. Shuman, president of Shuman-Haws Advertising company, in an address here recently, will be preserved in book form by the chamber of commerce. A pamphlet containing his full address before the chamber and Rotary, Lions and Appleton Advertising clubs, on "How to Get Industries That Fit," is being printed. A copy will be supplied each chamber of commerce member.

VALLEY FIELD DAY OF COMMANDERIES DEFERRED

Fox river valley field day of Masonic commanderies, which was to be held in Oshkosh July 14, has been postponed to Sept. 8, according to notice received by George R. Wettengel.

The change was made when it was found impossible for some of the commanderies to attend this month. Drills and a banquet will be arranged for the new date. Reservations are to be made by Aug. 15.

Remember last winter? A lot of $18-a-ton heat just circulated around the open basement. Also, a power of soot filtered up through the floor, onto the wall-paper and curtains. Stop all that loss and expense by ceiling the basement with Sheetrock—the different wallboard. It makes tight-jointed, cold-proof, sound-proof, dust-proof walls and ceilings—at low cost.

SPIED TODAY

A lot of people in Appleton are missing the opportunity of obtaining the motion picture entertainment free of cost. Two free tickets to the Elite theater are given for every item printed. "Only a Shop Girl" is the attraction at the playhouse the first three days this week. This play is a revival of the famous old production of the speaking stage which enjoyed great success all over the country. The picture is shown with an all-star cast.

TORE HER HAIRNET
Whether the man who tore the net or the girl whose net was torn was the more embarrassed is hard to say. It happened that on July 7 a young woman was walking along College-avenue when a man carrying an umbrella passed her. In passing, the umbrella caught the girl's hairnet and pulled it right off. The man was oblivious to the damage he had done until the young woman told him that she needed the net. He took it off the umbrella as best he could. L. C.

CAR WASHING PARTY

Monday morning we chanced to cross the bridge at Little Chute and became quite excited when we saw an automobile in the river. When we got closer we found that the car had been run in for a washing and that several young fellows in bathing suits were doing the job of washing it. P. O.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS IN MENASHA IN BAD SHAPE

Travel on the west route to Neenah has been made hazardous by the condition of the grade crossings over the Northwestern and Soo line tracks in the town of Menasha. The plank crossings have rotted away, leaving deep holes between the tracks. There is considerable danger that drivers will become stalled on the tracks and a serious accident might result.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y. — "I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives." — Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time. You should give it a fair trial now.

THREE TO ATTEND FARM CONFERENCE

Jamison, Leppla And Corbett To Share In Business Discussion

Three Outagamie-co men will be present Wednesday and Thursday at the conference in Milwaukee at which business men of the state will confer with farmers on their mutual problems. W. C. Jamison and Harry Leppla will be two of the fifty "dirt" farmers present, and Hugh C. Corbett will represent Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The conference was called by former Gov. E. L. Philipp, president of Milwaukee Association of Commerce, in an effort to devise some plan of cooperation that will enlighten commercial leaders and the farmers as to each other's difficulties and needs.

Farm body officials, railroad leaders, manufacturers, state officials and university experts will address the conference. The aim is to substitute a practical, constructive program for the demagogical "cure all" which has prevailed.

Canadian manufacturing establishments produce $450 worth of products per capita annually.

35 AT MEETING OF VALLEY LUTHERANS

Thirty-five pastors and lay delegates arrived here Tuesday morning for the annual Fox river valley conference of the Wisconsin Lutheran synod. The sessions at St. Paul Lutheran church will continue through Wednesday.

The Rev. William Bergholz of Keaukeok opened the sessions Tuesday morning and is acting as chairman. He delivered the opening sermon. Matters concerning Lutheranism will be discussed during the afternoon and communion will be held in the evening with the Rev. Leonard Kasper of Greenville preaching the sermon.

Biscuits—1 quart flour, 1 level teaspoonful salt, 2 heaping teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 large tablespoonful butter or fat, 6 tablespoonfuls Carnation Milk, 7 tablespoonfuls water, or enough to make a soft dough. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt into a bowl. Rub in with the hands the butter or fat until well mixed. Add Carnation Milk and water. Roll out about half an inch thick, cut, and bake in a quick oven 15 or 20 minutes. The secret of success in biscuit making is to have the ingredients cold, the mixture put together rapidly, and the oven the right temperature when the biscuits are entered.

For Flavouring Coffee—Use Carnation Milk undiluted. You will like the improvement in flavor and color—more economical than cream.

THE LEGISLATURE
The legislative session is over and the people of Wisconsin who were not carried away on the wave of radicalism and lurid promises of last fall, as well as many who were and who have since seen their mistake, may breathe more normally again. It was a session of politics and not in any sense a session of progress, yet those in control of both the house and the senate were those who in the election styled themselves as the only true progressives, and who promised, if given authority, to correct the evils of which the people complained and make government in Wisconsin an instrument of power to the weak and the improvident. When these progressives got together it turned out that they had no well conceived ideas, and least of all any unity of purpose, as to what to do. They had, denounced many things and talked loudly of reform in the campaign, but when they were confronted with the test of performance they could not agree and did not act.

It is true that the assembly passed a large number of bills that the senate killed, but that was because they were too radical for even the progressives in the upper house. Many of them were socialistic and some, such as the bill providing for the abolishment of the National Guard, were covertly aimed at the American system of government. The senate not only did not lose its head, but it seemed to be sobered by the responsibilities of decision in many important instances that were thrust upon it by the hasty and ill-considered action of the assembly.

The paramount issue before the legislature was taxation. The manner in which the question was handled by the so-called administration forces was at times highly amusing, yet through it all there was a certain cunning of politics whose ends were not altogether defeated. Mr. Blaine and those whose future is in immediate accord with his own may properly hold that they are better off without the enactment of a law that would have heavily increased taxation than with its passage. Any one of the bills passed by the assembly, had it become a law, would have put the administration on the defensive in the next election. The failure of this legislation enables the administration to again assume the offensive and to ask for a return to power on the ground that members of the party betrayed their trust, etc., etc.

This view is supported by the fact that the legislature refused to authorize the appointment of an ad interim committee to study the whole question of taxation and make a comprehensive report at the next session. It shows that Mr. Blaine and his followers prefer to keep taxation as a political plaything rather than to attempt its solution by intelligent and reasonable methods.

MANIFESTATIONS OF DIPLOMACY
The moves of England, France and Germany signify that the situation in Europe has practically reached the crisis. France cannot much longer keep on with the unprofitable maneuvers in the Ruhr. German money is almost worthless. England evidently is trying to force France and Germany to an understanding.

When it comes to commerce and finance, no government is so resourceful as the British. That government succeeded in protecting business after the war. Its policy has been wholly at variance with that of France.

France is attempting to take property away from a debtor, or to make the debtor work for her. Great Britain tries to make the debtor able to pay by inducing the debtor to work for himself.
France and Germany are at the point where they must find a basis of agreement. So, Great Britain is resorting to diplomacy, apparently with the object of impressing both of them and forcing them to agree.

EDWARD BOK AND PEACE
Edward Bok's patriotic offer of $100,000 as ap prize for the "best practicable plan" for obtaining cooperation of the United States with other nations to bring war to an end has naturally been the subject of widespread comment and discussion. Much of the comment is serious and intelligent, while some of it is derisive and small. Those who do not wish the matter of international cooperation kept alive make light of Mr. Bok's proposal. Those who are intent upon promoting peace, who believe that it can be done only through some form of international action, commend the offer and express the belief that it will be helpful toward attaining that end.

Mr. Bok's plan, whether or not it possesses merit, illustrates one important fact, which is that there are still in the world determined, resourceful and intelligent men who will not permit politics and a senate cabal to turn the people away from America's great, controlling aim in the World War. Not a single move has been made by the Harding administration to carry out that aim, which was to make the world safe for democracy by proscribing war and enforcing peace. The promise of both Mr. Harding and the party to set up an "association of nations" to take the place of the League of Nations has never once been referred to. The signed pledge of some fifty Republican leaders of national reputation that the election of Mr. Harding and a Republican congress was the best guarantee of America's entrance into such an association, and which necessarily had the approval of the campaign committee and Mr. Harding himself before it was issued, has been forgotten.

There never has been any real purpose by the administration to promote peace and discourage war through international cooperation. It has been afraid to approach the question because it realized that the logic of the situation and the stress of circumstances would inevitably force it into the League of Nations, for the simple reason that no sane alternative could be evolved and therefore there was no other road to travel. It has been the studious purpose of the administration, aided and abetted by its secretary of state who recently confessed that his foreign policies are not in accord with his convictions, to shelve the whole peace problem. It has accordingly engaged in a propaganda of denunciation of the League of Nations, which regularly insists that the League is dead, that it is a failure and that the United States NEVER will go into it. This is politics and nothing else.

If it were not for men like Edward Bok this political scheme might succeed. The people might be side-tracked away from one of the greatest issues of all time, thereby losing everything they stood to gain from the monumental sacrifices of the World War. The high aspirations of this country are toward international concert that will outlaw war and enforce peace. Any politician who denies this knows very little of public opinion. The voice of America, that is, the voice of its moral and intellectual leaders as expressed through the church and school and organizations of standing, is overwhelmingly on the side of peace. Politicians and party organs which connive with them continue to preach the doctrine of war and force, but it is a preaching of expediency rather than of principle. The day will come when America will cast these elements aside and throw its moral and physical power with other enlightened nations to do what the League of Nations was organized to do. The issue simply will not down, and Mr. Bok is to be congratulated for the strong impetus he has given to the movement to keep it alive. Whether his offer bears direct fruit, it will at least accomplish this.

The stiff collar is doomed. You can't watch an airplane in one.

Clowns on street corners are not talking politics. They are trying to get across.

One trouble with July Fourth is so many people ask what day of the month it falls on.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

SLACKER FLESH, EH?

A fairly constant reader writes:
"It is a long time since I first wrote to you, but time does not lessen the sense of gratitude I have for your advice. I opened my eyes to conditions with his knife he gave me the four, teen years I have lived since then; no doubt of it. I have lived to see my children's children and that is the fulfillment of heart's desire. I weigh 124, only 67 1/2 inches tall—slacker flesh? Well, maybe; but with a big house, no outside help, four at home, sewing for my grandchildren, church guild, fellowship dinners for 100 every month, club, Country federation committee work, political work—where do the ideas of slacker flesh?"
The lady goes on for 12 solid pages like that, and here and there becomes really picturesque, for instance:
"Oh, I know who the coyotes are that sit on the hilltops and howl their woes to high heaven. They are mothers of families, wives of men, who have done their full duty by home and church and state, and their paws ache, and their stomachs are grating out and their hair has turned gray and their days are long and their children, instead of being head good average coons, and they don't know a word about Dr. Brady and can't write—so they howl! Aren't you glad some one takes it out in howling?"
You see, she's a westerner, a California woman, and no doubt the climate tells on one in time. I decline to answer about the coyotes on the hilltops, because when I answer such things frankly, I am sarcastic, and when I try to be sarcastic, I am so very frank. All I'm going to answer is the woman's unfounded illusion to slacker flesh. She betrays a double belief, misapprehension there, which must be corrected at all costs.

In the first place, all those pastimes of diversions the lady enumerates, are not work. Politics work? Politics is working the other fellow. Club work? Church work? Well, maybe church is kinda hard work sometimes. But the women of the west are not dying off rapidly from overwork any more than the women of the east. It isn't work but business, all this hustle and bustle our correspondent describes. Just business.

In the next place, slacker flesh is surplus or superfluous fatty tissue, which serves no useful purpose in the economy (since the human species does not hibernate) and must be nourished and kept warm at the expense of the economy. That is why it is slacker flesh. Its presence in, or should we say upon the economy (envisaging the economy as a corporation), by no means proves that the person responsible for the economy is a slacker or anything of the kind; it proves merely that the culprit has acquired the habit of eating considerable more than he or she can conveniently burn up; this is so whether the economy is energetically active and energetic or as lazy as a white dog.

Anybody who toters around a handicap of say thirty to fifty pounds of absolutely parasitic slacker flesh for a few years, necessarily places a heavy strain on the arteries, the circulation, the heart, the kidneys and everything, feeding and nourishing and caring for that mountain of utter uselessness. That's where they get that idea of slacker flesh, and it's an exceedingly wholesome, healthful idea, for it makes many a poor, over-nourished economy stop to stop carrying the wasteful burden now, when a comma will serve, instead of waiting for the full stop.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, July 12, 1898
A. J. Smith of Neenah was an Appleton visitor. J. W. Leckman was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lebermann of Sheboygan.
The Misses Clara and Flora Hartung were spending their vacations with friends at Manitowoc and Two Rivers.
Edward Wainie of Cedar Falls, Ia., accepted a position with the Appleton Woolen Mills.
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kuttler were guests of friends at Manitowoc.
Col. H. A. Frambach, formerly of Kaukauna, arrived home from Colorado where he was connected with several business ventures.
Durgans visited William Kioepfel's hardware store the previous Sunday night and made away with an assortment of tools. Entrance was effected through a rear window.
The Second and Third Wisconsin regiments at Charleston, S. C. received word from the war department that the 600 recruits left Chickamauga park had been ordered to join them at once.
A. J. Simpich and Paul J. Cary formed a copartnership for the general practice of law under the firm name of Simpich & Cary.
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Vilas, who were about to remove from Kaukauna to Manitowoc were given a farewell party at Heindel's hall at Kaukauna.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, July 8, 1913
Miss Elizabeth Woodward returned to her home at Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wedes returned from a several days visit with relatives at Plattville.
The Evangelical association gave its annual excursion to Calumet harbor on the steamer Thistle.
Miss Alice Reid, head of the department of mathematics at Appleton high school tendered her resignation to the board of education. Miss Ethel Carter was selected to succeed her.
Henry Henner was taken ill the previous Saturday night and for a time his condition was critical.
Rev. Theodore North officiated the previous Sunday morning at the marriage of William Price of Eagle River and Miss Rosina Simon of Appleton. The ceremony took place at the parsonage.
A total of 528 votes was cast for clerk at the school meeting in the Third district the evening previous of which Charles A. Feuerstein received 291, George H. Lippert 228, and T. Warming 2.
The state board of control appointed Dr. Rock Saepter, formerly of Appleton, for four years physician of Wisconsin state prison, to the position of superintendent and steward of the new hospital for the criminal insane.

SEEN, HEARD and IMAGINED

---that's all there is to life

SUMMER REVERY

'Tis summer on the Fox! Barges are floating dreamily down the canal in quest of another load of gravel. Down the street may be heard the merry tinkle of street car bells. The sun is breaking gloriously through a dense cloud of coal smoke. Comes floating on the breeze the musical laugh of two south side flappers. 'Tis summer, beautiful summer! Through the open window wafts a fresh batch of sulphite (or whatever it is) from nearby paper mills. I wipe the perspiration from my brow and bat that Green Bay fly that missed me by a quarter of an inch.

Some men are natural born liars, some lie for business purposes, and others make overland trips and get to telling how many miles they make on a gallon of gasoline, ramblingly remarks the courthouse sage.

Did you ever tell a story you thought was a world beater—and then see it go flatter than a pancake? Maybe it's the weather.

ANTHOLOGY

As we contemplate the Green Bay fly
We think they're scarce worth while
They fly around an hour or two
And smell like cod-liver oil.

Never ask a postal employee what his politics are. Frank Letts says that the boys are all Republicans since the coming of the new postmaster. That in spite of the careful weaning from the party by the former Democratic postmaster.

WHY ASK ME?

ROLLO—Remember that nice big schooner of foamy beer you used to be able to get, with the sparkle and soap suds and the vat scrapings?

Sing a song o' gasoline, Driver full of rage, Spreading ruin everywhere As he dashes by, Tried to move a stone wall, Found it wouldn't budge, Wasn't he a pretty bid To bring before a judge?

SNAP IT BACK

So this is Paris, said the College-ave shopper as he snapped the garter.
Molly says if the June bridegroom is poor and bald and bowlegged, it is romance pure and simple.
ROLLO—We have thrown away the alarm clock since the coming of the Green Bay fly at our cottage.

Friend Inkslingers, shake a pen.

ROLLO.

Animals Had May Rights In Ancient Court

There was a time when animals were punished for wrong doing before a tribunal; judged, condemned or acquitted, exactly as human beings are today. Numerous examples are found in old documents, the latest one being not so very long ago, in 1741.

Among the most curious cases is one in 1220, a suit against some caterpillars and some field mice at Laon, France. The caterpillars were excommunicated.

In 1474 proceedings were instituted against a rooster at Bale, France. This rooster, it was said, had laid an egg. He was sentenced to be burned alive, the supposition being he was a witch.

In 1479 there were proceedings started by a Mr. Fricard, presiding officer of the court in the republic of Berne against some caterpillars. Mr. Perrotet of Fribourg was appointed advocate to defend them. In 1543 suit was started by judges of Grenoble against some snails that had ravaged the country. In 1547 a suit was instituted by Rouen consuls against rats and other obnoxious animals.

But the most curious of all is the following incident:
In 1587 the inhabitants of the town of St. Julien, France, learned that their vineyards were completely destroyed by locusts. They complained to the courts, and declared that they had decided to start proceedings against these insects if they did not leave the country at once.

The attorney appointed a lawyer to defend the locusts and three times sent a messenger to the vineyards where the insects were in great quantities ordering them to appear in court. But as the locusts are inclined to be temperamental and hard to manage, they disregarded these orders and judgment was taken by default.

Their lawyer, Mr. Fay, who was really a conscientious man, pleaded with eloquence and persuasion and obtained for his clients a special field on which they had a right to go. But the locusts showed no more disposition to execute the judgment than to appear in court; instead of profiting by the permission given them to retire peacefully on the small field given to them as a present and by notarial act, they remained insistently in the vineyards of St. Julien, and their advocate then appealed from the first judgment.

"The space given us is too small to install ourselves. We will not accept your proposition. We remain where we are."

The constable, a patient man, called in experts, who having carefully studied the question, affirmed that the locusts given them was quite sufficient and that the said locusts ought to make themselves contented there. Then the constable, much worried, referred the matter to the bishop to see if it was not possible to excommunicate the locusts. But after a long inquiry into the case the bishop said it would be better to have public prayers said for them, which took place.

History does not tell how it came out, however, today there is not a sign of a locust to be found at St. Julien.

Courts for animals disappeared in 1741. And it is much to be regretted, at least for our domestic animals, who can not come and ask justice for the many cruelties of which they are still the victims.—L'Echo de Paris.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent, Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Where is Handel's birthplace?
G. C. H.

A. In Halle, Germany. It is claimed that the house which is decorated with laurel and the names of his oratorios in honor of his being Handel's birthplace in reality adjoins the house where the composer was born.

Q. What does the figure on the dome of the National Capitol represent?
J. T. B.

A. It is a bronze statue entitled "Armed Liberty" designed by Crawford. It is 19 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 14,955 pounds.

Q. Wasn't Children's Day observed before the Presbyterian Church celebrated it in 1833?
M. W.

A. The General Sunday School Association of the Universalist Church says that the credit for this beautiful custom should be given to Rev. Charles H. Leonard, who, as pastor of the Universalist Church at Chelsea, Massachusetts, began the observance of Children's Day before 1830. The Chelsea Church formally set aside the second Sunday in June as Children's Sunday in 1837, the General Conference of this denomination taking similar action ten years later.

Q. What has become of the Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the late Czar of Russia?
I. M. C.

A. The Grand Duke, with the Duchess, is living in strict retirement in France.

Q. Are there any Filipinos at West Point?
C. H.

A. Last year there were three Filipinos at the United States Military Academy, Jose E. Olivares of Iloilo of the June class, being the first Filipino graduate from the institution.

Q. When did the first marriage of an actress into the peerage occur?
J. T. G.

A. In 1722 Anastasia Robinson, operatic singer, married the third Earl of Peterborough. Since then 25 other actresses have become peeresses by marriage.

Q. Why is the Boston Post Road so-called?
S. R. C.

A. A post road is so called from the fact that, in the early days, the United States mail was carried over it.

Q. Was the lead tablet recently dug up at Fort Pierre, South Dakota of any real importance to history?
F. C. S.

A. This tablet which came to light in 1913 will cause a new page to be added to histories. Its inscriptions show that a Frenchman, Verandrye, and his sons explored that part of the country sixty years before Lewis and Clark opened up the Louisiana Purchase territory. The United States Government has set aside as a national monument commemorating these explorations of these early explorers 600 acres of land surrounding Crowleight Butte.

Q. What magazine took the place of Godey's Ladies Book?
J. W.

A. The Delveator is the successor of this magazine.

East Africans Want Freedom

(From The Outlook, London.)
Apathy on the part of Great Britain, lack of understanding because of lack of interest, surrounds the struggle for freedom of 10,000 white men in the heart of Africa. In 1760 most educated Englishmen vaguely knew what Massachusetts was but in 1823 we doubt whether one-quarter of our people, if led to a map of the globe, could within two minutes put a finger on Kenya. It may seem sensational and far-fetched to record the belief that this little-known Kenya question involves, for the future of the British empire, issues of policy more important than any that have confronted the peoples living under the Union Jack since the revolution of 13 colonies. Settling aside such struggles for our national existence as those with Napoleon and the Kaiser, we nevertheless believe that such may prove to be the case.

Kenya is the "last white man's country" available for colonization by Englishmen, where a great and rich civilization, becoming in time a rival to that of the Mississippi valley, can arise. Nature has showered on the East African highlands her richest gifts. In Kenya great cotton plantations may be developed that shall emancipate England from her present economically disastrous dependence upon the southern states of America for this staple of our great midlands industry. Fields of grain, rivaling those of the western prairies, and the three of the resources of an unconquered and untapped region, are ours if we work for them. And here in Kenya, as in no other undeveloped dependency of the British crown, the climate permits white men in their millions to lead healthy lives and to raise families.

Such is the vision of the future which these pioneers who have gone out into this promised land paint for us. But is Kenya to be a white man's country? There are four times as many Indians as white men in the colony today. Indian-Nationalists demand equality in all civic rights for the brown man against the white. So strong is the feeling aroused among Indians on this question that the Kenya problem has become of vital importance in our relations with India.

Pioneers Of City Are Wed Fifty Years

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Hanchett, 470 Franklin-st., surprised them at their home on Monday in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock on the lawn to 25 guests. The evening was spent informally.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanchett were married on July 9, 1873 in Berlin, Wis., and came to Appleton three weeks later, arriving here on Aug. 1. They have made their home in this city for the entire 50 years. Mr. Hanchett is well known throughout the state as the commander of the George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Hanchett will be 82 years old on Oct. 30, while Mrs. Hanchett was 78 on Jan. 13.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Cecil Mills, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Mills, 366 Pacific-st. and Floyd Hardacker, son of Mrs. Mary Hardacker, Seymour, took place in the study of the Congregational church at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. C. W. Cross performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hardacker left immediately on a trip and will be at home to their friends at 366 Pacific-st. after Aug. 1.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Mary church of Greenville occurred the marriage of Miss Doris I. Collar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Collar, to Eli L. Steffen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steffen, both of Hortonville. The Rev. Edward J. Schimberg performed the ceremony. The attendants were Mrs. Lawrence Blinckner, sister of the bride, and Jerome Steffen, brother of the bridegroom. A breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The bridal couple left Tuesday morning on an automobile trip to Eau Claire and other cities. They will reside at Hortonville.

PARTIES

The Minnetoska camp fire girls were the guests of Miss Arvilla Krautsch, 955 Gilmore-st., on Monday afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary. Miss Laura Rogers, guardian of the group, came from her home in Oshkosh to attend the party. A program of games and music was planned for the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Heid were surprised at Hotel Appleton on Sunday morning by 60 guests, members of a Milwaukee choir who were on their way to Shawano lake for a two day outing. A. J. Kromer, director of the choir, is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Heid. The choir stopped long enough to sing a few songs in the lobby of the hotel and then continued to Shawano for its outing. The trip was made in 20 automobiles.

"Spooning" In Cars On Roads Rouses Farmers

The beginning of a crusade against roadside "sparking" probably has resulted from a collision in which a Ford touring car Monday evening hit the rear of a Ford coupe on the Brickyard rd. The lights of the coupe had been turned off, it is said.

Not only have farmers been profuse in their complaints about the loitering of young people on country roads, but an Appleton business man also complained of lengthy parking of automobiles for "spooning" purposes.

Not that their elders would deprive the young of the joy of life, but for the sake of the still younger folk they would call a halt to making public streets "public sparking parlors," they said.

LAWYERS PLAN FOR STATE CONCLAVE

Matters pertaining to the next Wisconsin Bar association convention was discussed at the luncheon of Outagamie County Bar association at Conway hotel Monday noon. The local association extended an invitation to the state organization to come to Appleton next year. The invitation was referred to the executive committee and it was claimed there was every indication it would be accepted. Several other matters pertaining to the profession received consideration. There was a large attendance.

RAILROAD TO REPAIR COLLEGE-AVE CROSSING

JANESVILLE POLICEMAN GETS PAY FOR ACCIDENT

Kaukauna—Leo Lennartz, Janesville patrolman, who was injured in an auto accident at McCarty's crossing on September 14, 1922, was awarded $205 compensation by Rock Co. according to a decision of the industrial commission. Lennartz was returning from a trip to the Green Bay reformatory where he had delivered a prisoner and the commission upheld Lennartz's contention that he was an agent of the county during the trip.

Lennartz failed to see a train at the crossing and was unable to slow down. His car was tipped over and he was pinned underneath it. The injured man was taken to Kaukauna and was moved to his home a few days later.

Cost of building a first-class battleship is about $19,000,000.

KAUKAUNA HEARS INDIANS' CLAIMS

Kaukauna—Mayor C. E. Raught has called a meeting of Kaukauna business men and citizens at the request of a committee of Oneda Indians for the purpose of hearing a discussion of the rights of the Oneda Indians, together with the other tribes of the six Nations, to ascertain lands in the state of New York to which the Indians have never legally forfeited their rights. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the council rooms. Attorney Kellogg of Wausau, D. C. W. N. Nolan, G. J. Flanagan and C. J. Estes of this city, besides several nurses, Cots, sheets and blankets were loaned generously by local people, according to Mrs. James O'Connell, city health nurse. "Finest in the world! I claim responsibility for him, in a way. He's part mine," Gray laughed; his eyes sparkled.

"Him and Bob? Are they out there together? They've been together a lot, Mr. Gray. Both of 'em young, that away."

"Of course, I knew you'd both like—," Some quality in Tom's voice, some reluctant easiness to his eyes, bore a belated message to the younger man—snapped his chain of thought—dried the words upon his lips. Into his eyes leaped a sudden, strained incredulity. Sharply, he cried, "What do you mean?" Then, after an instant, "Why did he want to see me?" The two men gazed squarely at each other for the first time. "My God! Why—that's absurd! I—I brought him here. He's just a boy."

"I didn't notice how things were going till it was too late. We might as well talk frankly. Mr. Gray, probably it's well you saw me first, eh? Well, when I understood where they were heading, I understood a lot—after what you said that day, understand? But those two! Pshaw! It was like they had known each other always."

"Then they've settled it between them?" Tom nodded gravely. "She told me last night. And from the way she told me, I know it's not just boy and girl love. She's been singing like a bird all day. And Buddy? He's breathless. I know how he feels. I couldn't draw a full breath for two weeks after Bob's mother—"

Gray uttered a wordless, gasping cry. He moved unsteadily toward the door, then paused with his hand upon the knob. Tom Parker was surprised when, after a moment, he saw the man's shoulders shake and heard him utter a thin, cackling laugh. "Time is a grim old joker, isn't he? No way of beating him, none at all. Now I thought I was young, but—Lucky I found you here and spared my vanity."

CHAPTER XXXV

MA SAYS A PRAYER

Calvin Gray did return to the bank. He went straight to his hotel and, as soon as he could sufficiently control himself to do so, he telephoned Gus Briskow, telling him that he intended to leave town. Then he began mechanically to pack his bag. He moved like a man in a trance, for the blow had fallen so suddenly as to numb him; his only impulse was to escape to hide himself from those people who, of a sudden, had become hateful.

When night came he took his bag and slunk out of the hotel, for it seemed that men knew surely, knew what a fool he had made of himself. It would have been a relief to feel that he was leaving never to return; but even that was denied him, for, after his first panic, the truth had come home. He could not run away.

He thought of Ma Briskow, finally. She was human; she had a heart. He bought a ticket for Dallas.

Ma Briskow's eyes were dim; nevertheless, she saw the change in Calvin Gray when, late the following afternoon, he came to see her.

"Land sakes!" she exclaimed, in a shocked voice. "Pa never said you was a'lin'! Why, Mr. Gray?"

"I'm not really ill," he told her wearily. "Just old. I've had a bad night." Seating himself beside her couch, he took her hand in his and made her tell him all about herself. He had brought her an armful of flowers, as usual, and extravagant gifts for her adornment—giving, it seemed, was his unconscious habit. While she admired them with ecstatic "Ohs" and "Ahs," he busied himself with bowls and vases, but Ma noted his fumbling, uncertainty of touch and evident effort with which he kept up his assumption of good cheer. She told him, finally:

"Something mighty bad has happened to you, Mr. Gray."

He gazed at her mutely, then nodded. "Is it something about the—the Princess of Wichita Falls?"

"Yes, Ma."

There was a long silence, then Ma inquired: "Would you like to tell me something about the little princess? Sometimes it helps, to talk."

"Not yet."

"Won't you stay an' have supper with Allie an' me? We're awful lonesome with Pa gone. Allie's out somers, but—it would do me good to know you was here an' it'll do you good to stay. You can rest yourself while I take my nap."

Ma Briskow did not wish to take a nap, but she knew that Gray needed the solace of his own thoughts just now, so, when he agreed, she sent him downstairs.

Gray's brain, like his body, had grown tired and feverish. To be sure, little more than a day had gone by since he had walked forth like a knight, but it seemed a year, an age, and every hour brought a new and keener distress. He found it possible now, for the first time, to relax a bit physically, so he closed his eyes and lay back in an easy chair while the twilight stole in upon him.

He heard Allie enter the house, but he did not stir. He would have to put on the mask soon enough, for, of course, she must never suspect, on Buddy's account. The room which had grown agreeably dark, was suddenly illuminated, and he lurched to his feet to find the girl facing him from the door. She was neither startled nor surprised at his presence, and when he tried to smile and to greet her in his accustomed manner, she interrupted him by saying:

"I knew you were here." "So? Then Ma is awake again?" Allie shook her head vaguely. "I knew you were here the minute I came in. I can 'most always tell." There had been a shadow of a smile upon her lips, but it vanished, a look of growing concern crept over her face. "What's the matter? Whatever has happened, Mr. Gray?" "Why, nothing. I was feeling tired, worn out. Indulging myself in a thoroughly enjoyable fit of the blues." His voice broke when he tried to laugh.

Allie uttered a quick, low cry, a wordless, sympathetic sound. Her dark eyes widened, grew darker; she came forward a step or two, then she halted. "Would you rather be alone?" she asked. He signified his dissent, and she went on: "I know what the blues are like. I sit alone in the dark a good deal."

She busied herself about the room for a few moments, straightened things, adjusting the window shades. Allie had the knack of silence, blessed attribute in man or woman, and to Gray's surprise he found that her mere presence was comforting. She startled him by saying, suddenly:

"You're hurt! Hurt badly!"

He looked up at her with an instinctive denial upon his lips, but, realizing the futility of deceit, he nodded. "Yes, Allie."

The girl drew a deep breath, her strong hands closed, harshly she said: "I could kill anybody that hurt you. I wanted to kill Buddy that time. Is it those Nelsons? Have they got you down? There was something fierce and masterful in Allie's concern, and her inquiry carried with it more than a promise of help; she had, in fact, flung herself into a protective attitude. She suggested nothing so much as a lioness roused.

"No, no! It is nothing like that. I merely fooled myself—had a dream. You wouldn't understand, my dear."

Allie studied him soberly for a moment. "Oh, yes, I would! I do! I understand perfectly. Nobody could understand as well as I do!" "What do you mean by that?" "I've been hurt, too," she said a hand upon her breast. "That's why I sit in the dark."

"My dear child, I'm sorry. Gus said you were unhappy, but I thought it was merely the new life. You're young; you can forget. It's only old ones who can't forget. Sometime you must tell me all about it."

The girl smiled faintly, but he nodded, positively: "Oh, it's a relief to tell somebody! I feel better already for confiding in Ma. Yes, and your sympathy is mighty soothing, too. It seems almost as if I had come home."

He closed his eyes and laid his head back.

Allie placed her hand upon his forehead and held it there for a moment before she moved away. It was a cool and tranquilizing palm and he wished she would hold it there for a long time, so that he could sleep, forget—

Allie Briskow went to her room and there she studied her reflection in the mirror carefully, deliberately, before retiring.

You've got to do it, for he's hurt. When a girl is hurt like that, it makes a woman of her, but when a man's hurt it makes him a little boy. I—I guess it pays to keep on praying."

It was perhaps a half hour later that Ma Briskow heard a sound that caused her to rise upon her elbow and listen with astonishment. It was the sound of low, indistinct, but joyous singing; it came from Allie's room. Allie singing again! What could have happened? Slowly Ma's face became wistful, eager. "Oh, Mister Fairy King!" she whispered. "Please build up his castle again. You can do it. There's magic in the world. Make him a duke again an' her queen, for yours is the power an' the glory for ever an' ever. Amen!"

THE END.

42 TEACHERS GET EXTRA SALARY FOR STICKING TO JOB

More Than $1,200 Apportioned
To Mentors With Service Records

Outagamie county teachers will receive $1,206.50 as their share of the state bonus for rural teachers. Forty-two teachers are on the list of those entitled to bonus. Checks have been mailed this week from the office of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools.

The apportionment is made in accordance with the Wisconsin statutes which provide that a rural teacher who remains in a school for more than a year and teaches successfully shall receive $2 a month extra during the second year. If the teacher continues for the third year, an extra $4 a month is granted. For the fourth or any succeeding year, the teacher receives $8 a month additional.

Those participating in the bonus are as follows: Gladys Lockery, $17.10; Vera Lockery, $18; Frances Longe, $64; Anna Wickesberg, $18; Marie Moriarty, $72; Nora L. Nitz, $18; E. Pamperin, $68.40; Mrs. Anna Good, $15.20; Marie E. Ruberg, $18; Rachel C. Schindler, $17.10; Germaine E. Schlude, $18; Edna Schmidt, $15; Arnold A. ## BREAK ALL RECORDS FOR SALES OF DAIRY CATTLE

Dairy cattle sales to out of state buyers for the first five months of 1923 have broken all records, according to the report of Paul Nyhus, formerly of Appleton, who is state-federal statistician at Madison. In these months the sales were 3,000 larger than during the corresponding months of 1922. The five months' total was 18,207 head, and for May alone the number was 5,116 head. The total 1922 sales were 43,000 head. But even this great volume is expected to fall far short of those in the coming fall.

GOODRICH STEAMSHIP LINES

Central's Fingers Fly When Day's Toll Calls Flood Appleton Office

Direct Lines To Many Cities
Give Switchboard Here Volume Of Almost 2,000 Long Distance Calls Each Day

Probably few Appleton patrons of the Wisconsin Telephone company realize that this city has one of the largest and busiest switching stations in Wisconsin. There are direct lines here to a great number of places and other stations without the same facilities place their long distance calls through Appleton.

The long distance operators in the local station present a splendid example of a busy life and moreover the operators declare their work is fascinating. So great a number of long distance calls is completed by the Appleton operators that they are busy out the board nearly every moment of their time in the office. Not only are the calls completed but detailed records of each call are made, even to the number of seconds taken beyond the allotted time for parties to talk.

Sometimes patrons become rather impatient when their long distance calls are not put through immediately but if they could watch the operators at work they would realize how unreasonably they are. It is the object of each operator to complete a call just as quickly as possible but various difficulties arise which she often has to overcome. There are many lines going to some places from the Appleton station. If all those lines are busy and the call has to go through that particular station the operator must wait until she can get the line. Other times the lines may be out of order. It then is sometimes necessary, if the call is urgent, to route it through another station, which requires more time and the same difficulties may arise as through the direct line from Appleton.

When calls go to places where the local station has no direct line it is necessary to call another city and put the call through there. For this purpose a chart is kept showing the station through which the call could be secured most quickly. If that line is busy or out of order a second station is mentioned which the operator may use without waiting for the first line.

DIRECTORIES HELP
Directories of other cities to which the company has direct lines are kept at hand for use by the operators. These save a great deal of time because the operator is able to give the telephone number of the person desired.

As soon as a call for another station is received the name of the person calling and his telephone number are recorded, also the person to whom he wishes to speak if it is a person to person call, and the name of the station. As soon as the connection is completed and the two individuals are in touch over the line the record slip is placed in a stamping device called the calculagraph and the exact time when the persons began to talk is recorded. As soon as the call is finished the record slip is placed in the other side of the calculagraph and the time when the persons stopped talking is recorded. The operators are allowed 15 seconds beyond the usual three minutes to talk but if the calculagraph records more than that time the charge is made for each additional minute. If for some reason it is impossible to complete a call the slip is so marked.

A great many more person-to-person calls are put through than station-to-station calls because if the person calling it sure his party will be there the service is faster. A station-to-station call must be paid for even though the party may not be at home if the station is secured.

STATION IS BIG ONE
An average of 700 long distance calls made by local patrons are completed by the Appleton operators every day and between 800 and 1,000 calls coming into Appleton and through the local station are also completed in a single day. With this record it is certainly evident Appleton has a right to her claim of having one of the biggest switching stations in Wisconsin.

There are operators who take care of only the calls coming into Appleton and those going through. Other operators place the calls from local patrons to outside points. There is also a local operator who has for her particular duty just securing local parties for the incoming calls.

Among the stations in Wisconsin to which many calls are made every day are: Milwaukee, Chicago, Waupaca, Green Bay, Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Marinette, Oshkosh, Janesville, Madison, Sheboygan and Kaukauna. There are sometimes as many as a hundred or more calls to each of these in a day. Other places nearer Appleton are also called many times.

Points outside the state to which a number of calls are made are Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, in Minnesota; to Rockford and Waukegan, Ill.; Cleveland, Ohio; South Bend and Indianapolis, Indiana; New York city; and in the west to Los Angeles and

San Francisco. Calls are made to nearly every state in the union and to some places the operators declare they never heard of before.

SUMMER BUSIEST

The summer months are the busiest of the year for the long distance operators although the chief operator found this last winter an unusually busy one. June, July and August seem to bring the greatest number of long distance calls, probably because people move around so much on vacations and perhaps because when they want to get in touch with another person they usually do not want to wait for Uncle Sam to carry a letter.

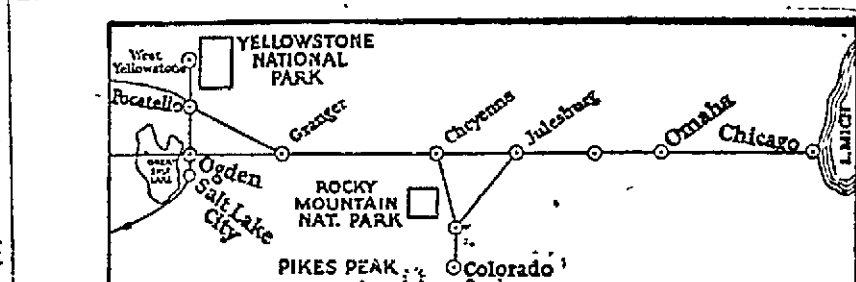

Rates for long distance station-to-station change three times during the 24 hours. The day rates are used from 4:30 in the morning to 8:30 in the evening, when the evening rates begin. The evening rate is used from 8:30 until midnight, when the mid-night rate begins and lasts until 4:30 in the morning. The station-to-station calls put through at midnight are about one-third of the cost of calls secured on day rates. Rates for person-to-person calls do not change.

There are 40,000 lakes in Newfoundland.

Making a Few Nickels

THE difference in first cost between a roll of ordinary building paper and a roll of Bird's Neponset Black Waterproof Building Paper will buy only a few cigars.

But, Oh, the difference in protection in future years! It is absurd to sneathe roof boards, or walls with a non-waterproof building paper because these soak up moisture like a sponge and quickly disintegrate. Bird's Neponset Black Waterproof Building Paper lasts as long as the building.

Save coal and colds. Keep your house warm on cold days and cool on warm days and always dry by using Bird's Neponset—the building paper that is really waterproof.

Twelve foreign cars were counted on Oneida-st Sunday afternoon within an hour. These that came from the greatest distance were from Winnipeg, California, New York and South Carolina.

Switch In Schedule Between Twins And Sheboygan July
22, And September 2

A new face in the Papermakers' lineup will greet the Twins next Sunday when Sylvester takes his tribe to Marinette-Menominee. Dobratz, who played with the New London team while it was in the Fox River valley league, has been signed up for the rest of the season to replace Dutch Brautigan at third base. Dobratz held down the keystone sack last season for Menasha, until he was forced to give up his diamond activities for a time to have a bothersome appendix removed. He is a hard hitter, and possesses an arm capable of heaving the ball about a mile.

It has been learned that Stony McGinn's resignation as umpire owing to a change in his business connections has been accepted by the president of the league with deep regrets, and that Louis Resch of Menasha has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

SCHEDULE CHANGED
By mutual agreement, and with the approval of the president game No. 15, scheduled for Sunday, July 22, Marinette-Menominee at Sheboygan, has been changed to Sheboygan at Marinette-Menominee. This is merely a switch in dates, as game No. 24, which Sheboygan had been scheduled to play at Marinette-Menominee, has also been changed about so that Marinette-Menominee will play at Sheboygan on that date. No other clubs in the league are affected by this change.

Cream City Boxer Who Is Overweight

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Johnny Mendelson, local boxer who was to have met Rocky Kansas here Monday night, began taking off weight Tuesday to assure himself of making 135 pounds at 3 P. M. Wednesday.

The bout was postponed until Wednesday night, late Monday after a stormy session attended by the promoters and the managers of the fighters. Kansas, through his manager, refused to get into the ring with the local boy, who was four pounds overweight, when the pair weighed in.

Both fighters had posted $1,000 for weight and appearance. Mendelson's forfeit money is in the hands of the state boxing commission for disposition.

SARAZEN MUST UPSET HISTORY
TO REPEAT WINAnderson And McDermott Are Only Men Who Ever Won
National Title Twice

Gene Sarazen, almost entirely overlooked by the golfing experts, won the national open championship in 1922. Despite the fact that Sarazen had played fine golf in the southern tournaments in the spring of last year, the wise men of golf favored Walter Hagen, Jock Hutchison and Jim Barnes, the big three of American golf, and Duncan and Mitchell of England as the probable winners.

Sarazen completely upset the dope by winning. Some of the experts went so far as to regard it in the light of a fluke. Sarazen, by his fine golf during the remainder of the year, completely refuted such a belief.

Can Gene Sarazen repeat? That is the question that is now bothering the wise men of golf.

BIG TEST FOR SARAZEN
The champion faces the test this week when the national open championship is being staged at the Inwood Country Club, Inwood, N. J.

Sarazen's work is cut out for him if he is to again win the greatest golfing honors of this country. Not only will he have to brush aside one of the classiest fields ever entered in the event but he will also be forced to upset the tradition that champions seldom repeat.

Since the national open championship was inaugurated in 1894 only two champions have repeated. Precedent is against Sarazen.

Back in 1902, Willie Anderson showed the way to the field, Anderson upset the dope by winning in 1904 and gave the scribes something additional to write about when he again captured the event in 1905. He is the only player to ever win the golfing classic three times in succession.

The only other golfer to have an experience somewhat similar to that of Willie Anderson is J. I. McDermott. With Anderson he shares the honor of being the only two players in the history of the event to repeat.

Pinky Mitchell Floored By Nats
Goodman In Philadelphia Fight

Philadelphia—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, Monday night defeated Alex Hart, of Louisville, O., in the opinion of the majority of sports writers at the ring side, in an eight round bout at the National league baseball park. Approximately 30,000 persons, the largest crowd that ever witnessed a boxing exhibition in this city, saw the match.

Leonard's weight was announced as 133 pounds and Hart's as 134.

Danny Kramer of Philadelphia outpointed Tommy Noble of England in eight rounds, in the opinion of the majority of the sport writers.

Bobby Wolgast, Philadelphia, earned a draw according to sport writers, in his eight round bout with Joe Lynch, New York, bantamweight champion.

Wolgate forced the fighting in the early rounds and in the fifth he had the champion holding Lynch not better as the fight progressed, his work in the seventh and eighth rounds outwitting him on even terms with the Philadelphia.

Richie Mitchell of Milwaukee won the popular decision in an eight round bout here Monday night with George Russell of this city.

Nate Goldman of Philadelphia outboxed Pinky Mitchell of Milwaukee in eight fast rounds, according to the newspaper men. Both men scored knockdowns in the fourth round. Mitchell weighed 135 pounds and Goldman 140.

GREEN BAY GOLFERS WIN
MATCH WITH TWIN CITIES

Menominee, Mich.—The Fox River Country club golf players from Green Bay defeated the Riverside club of Marinette-Menominee in an intercity match here on Saturday by the score of 18 to 15.

Victory for either club brings on the last pair of players to come in and the gallery waited around anxiously to know the result. Jerome North of Green Bay tied his play with W. L. Dewitt of Marinette-Menominee, and this enabled the visitors to win by a single point margin.

Kerwin, Parmenter, Collette and Smith made clean sweeps over their opponents. Frank Kerwin, medalist for the Green Bay club, established a new course record here in the Riverside links shooting the round in a 73. The former marks was 74.

The score follows:

KAMM'S BATTING
IS ONLY DOUBTFUL
FEATURE OF PLAYWhite Sox Fielder Is Undergoing Period Of Probation
In Major League

Chicago—When a ball player is considered worth the outlay of $100,000 it is only natural that he should be subjected to the critical eye of every baseball expert.

That is the period that Willie Kamm of the Chicago White Sox is now going through.

Will Kamm field up to the major league standard?

That question has already been settled in the minds of every one connected with the game. Kamm is a wonderful fielder. He can go equally far to his right or left, comes in fast on bunts and has a great arm.

Will Kamm develop into a 300 hitter in the majors?

On this question there is much difference of opinion among the leading critics, major league managers, star pitchers and big league players in general.

Kamm has a habit that is not characteristic of the great batsmen, he hits on a ball. That is, as Kamm completes his swing, as the ball meets the bat, there is a lifting motion. He does not follow through on a direct line as do the great hitters of the game.

Baseball experts contend that this lifting motion, as the bat meets the ball, makes for fly ball hitting rather than line drives. In other words Kamm hits slightly under the ball rather than getting direct contact.

It is an easy matter to notice this fault if one carefully studies Kamm's style at the plate. Possibly Kamm will never be a great batsman, yet it would occasion no great surprise if Kamm finished among the select 300.

A player, however, who can field like Kamm is a most valuable man if he only hits around .270.

SHEPARD WINS IN GOLF ELIMINATION

E. C. Shepard defeated Jack Pow ell seven up and six to play in their elimination match for the Cincinnati golf cup at the Riverview Country club course Monday afternoon.

This leaves six pairs of players who still have to play off preliminary matches this week, but owing to the condition of the grounds it is unlikely that the tournament will make further progress Tuesday.

SHELBY FIGHT BACKER'S
BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Great Falls, Mont. — The Stanton Trust and Savings bank of Great Falls, which George H. Stanton, one of the men who assisted in financing the Dempsey-Gibbons fight on July 4, is president, closed its doors Monday morning at 11 o'clock when it was unable to liquidate its clearing at the local clearing house. The closure was voluntary, and State Superintendent of Banks L. Q. Skelton will arrive here Monday night to take charge.

Mr. Stanton stated after the bank closed that the bank was solvent, but that it was impossible to procure money to meet the concern's obligations. The bank's statement, in response to a formal call of June 3, showed resources of $1,174,423, with deposits of approximately $500,000.

DEMPEY SAYS HE IS EAGER TO FIGHT AGAIN

Salt Lake City—Imbued with the spirit of confidence following his victory over Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont. on July 4, and firm in the belief that he is in the best physical condition of his ring career, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, says he stands ready to meet any qualified challenger in the world.

Reassured of his power of endurance, the one point in his ability of which, he said, fight fans might have been skeptical—the champion announced that he was "out to fight until I am killed." Proof of his endurance, Dempsey asserted, was positive as the result of his fifteen grueling rounds with the St. Paul fighter.

Grid Star "Jack Of All Trades"

HARRY KIPKE

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Making nine let- ters in three years is a regular he- man's job for any college athlete.

But that's what Harry Kipke, Wolverine grid star, will have done before he graduates next year, barring injuries or other unforeseen events.

And Harry, who is working his way through school, finds time to write for the newspapers and get good marks on his report cards, too.

A more versatile sportsman per- haps has never cast his lot with Michigan's teams.

It's his football achievements, of course, which have been heralded the widest. Walter Camp thought enough of him to give him a berth on his 1922 All-American eleven.

Yet Kipke has more than just un- canny football ability in his make- up. Matters not what is the sport, he always is ready to take a hand in it. And he generally goes over as big as when he's working in the moleskins.

The coveted "M" has been awarded him in baseball and basketball, as well as football, in both his sophomore and senior years. If time per- mitted, he no doubt would knock off at least one more initial in a major sport.

That would be in track. He is one of the speediest runners warming the boards of Waterman gymnasium.

In intramural athletics, he goes in for tennis, speedball, soccer, handball, bowling and swimming. Then he's pretty handy with the mits. One might be wrought havoc with his opponent in a fraternity boxing bout that masters of ceremonies decided to bar him from further participation in such sociable little tilts.

During vacation, when he isn't kicking a football or knocking out high ones, he spends his spare moments on the golf links, making the course in close to par.

And that's not all.

Harry, as a sport writer, covers Michigan activities for various news- papers. His friends say he can be a winner either in coaching or journal- ism when his school days are over.

He's a modest lad, to boot. Pub- licity—and he's had plenty of it—has not turned his head. Professors and students idolize him.

Back in Lansing, Mich., Harry helped to put his high school on the map in an athletic way. It was his work, primarily, that gave it state football championships two years ago.

When he leaves Michigan with nine letters he'll gain a distinction prac- tically unique in the university's his- tory.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Jimmy Nuss wants another chance at Gunner Joe Quinn who knocked him out in the July 4 fracas in Appleton. If Jimmy knows what's good for him he will lay off the Gunner. He looked like a hum against the clever St. Paul fighter in their meeting here.

Jap Barberus may be lost to the Wisconsin State league unless his suspension is lifted by next Sunday. Jap- lovan has been traded to Green Bay since he resigned as manager of the Fond du Lac club and he has several offers from non-league teams that are quite attractive. Jap was suspended for a scrap with Umpire Casey Jansen at Kaukauna on July 4.

Sunday's loss to Kaukauna was a heartbreaker. The Papermakers played excellent ball but they could not hit Trentman safely when hits would have scored runs. But it was a good bill game and fans, disappointed here, have because the team did not win, not their money's worth in baseball.

Sheboygan is increasing its lead in the Wisconsin State league and now is two games ahead of the field. Sheboygan has had some pretty good hitting lately and the team has been hitting hard.

Golf matches and tournaments at Riverview Country club the last few weeks have resulted in some interest- ing and exceedingly close matches. The handicap system is worked out carefully, judging from the close scores that are being turned in.

By Associated Press
Chicago—A report of serious talk by Manager McGraw to his tottering Giants on Sunday after their second defeat at the hands of Cincinnati bore the fruit of victory Monday.

Though the pitching efforts of Art Nehf were in vain, and the defense was ragged in spots, the New Yorkers answered the words of their leader in- dividually when they came to bat against Cincinnati. Kelly and Frisch sold it with homers, and the team as a whole drove in enough runs to bury the westerners, 13 to 6.

With only the two Chicago teams to uphold the part of the western clubs in the victory column, the east- ern teams in both the American and National leagues won the majority of the victories in the inter-sectional clashes.

The Yankees at St. Louis continued their victorious romp, winning, 9 to 3. Boston took the measure of the Cleveland Americans, 4 to 1; while Philadelphia trounced Detroit, 6 to 5.

The Chicago Nationals were victor- ous at Boston, 4 to 1, while the Chicago Americans pushed Washington further back in the second division by winning, 8 to 1. John Shano Collins, former favorite of the Chicago White Sox, and now a member of the Wash- ington Red Sox, will not be able to play for several days. Collins was hit by a pitched ball in Sunday's game at Cleveland.

Sherrod Smith, star pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, met his first de- feat of the season when Bill Piercy of the Boston Red Sox broke the winning streak of Tris Speaker's club.

Eddie Collins, captain of the Chicago White Sox, who has been out of the game with an injured knee, re- turned to his position at second, and Clifford Hapenny the University of Illinois star was benched.

Kenneth Sedgwick, Norfolk, Va., re- cruit pitcher with the Washington Senators, made his major league de- but and showed plenty of stuff in the early innings against the Chicago White Sox. Johnny Mostil collided with him in the middle of the game in running out a bunt, upset the big right hander, and slightly hurt his ankle. He refused to leave the game, but lost some of his effectiveness, and was defeated by Gleason's outfit in the later innings.

Jacques Fournier, the big French- man, who went to the Brooklyn Dodgers from the St. Louis Cardinals made his twelfth homer in the game against his former mates with Sherde- on on the hill.

Center Fielder Mueller of the St. Louis Cardinals, took one of Dazzy Vance's pitches on the right temple and was knocked unconscious. After recovering, he was assisted from the field. It may be several days before he steps back into the game.

Willard Too Tall To Get Good
Wallop On Point Of Jaw

New York—Luis Firpo is being turned into a body puncher in pre- paration for his fight with Jess Wil- lard in Jersey City Thursday night.

The South American giant is put- ting in hours of secret work, in ad- dition to the training he does in pub- lic, it became known on Monday and during these hours, Jimmy DeForest is teaching Firpo how to direct his attack on the body. In all of Firpo's previous fights he has shown just one blow—a crushing right to the jaw.

This blow has flattened all of his op- ponents. But Willard is much taller than Firpo and as Luis will have to swing upward to reach Jess DeForest realizes that the force of his punches may be lost.

Considering Willard's age, heavy body punching is also calculated to weaken him quicker than anything else and as a consequence Firpo is expected to show a decidedly differ- ent attack against Jess.

Willard is now down to 235 pounds. He is the picture of confidence and confidently expects to knock out Firpo, despite the fact that he is on the short end of the betting. He has prac- tically completed his training and will do only the lightest kind of work be- tween now and Thursday.

Firpo's back, in which he suffered a "crick" due to a cold a couple of days ago is once more in good shape.

PITCHER HEIMACH
GAINS ACCLAIM IN
PINCH HITTER ROLEConnie Mack's Hurler One Of Most Dependable Batters On Staff

Few major league pitchers are at all dangerous at the bat. With a majority of the star pitchers it is simply a case of swinging blindly at three, or permitting the umpire to call them out on strikes. Look at the major league averages and you will find the names of most of the pitchers bringing up the rear of the procession.

Of course there are a few excep- tions. Walter Johnson is one of the few really great pitchers who is dan- gerous at the bat. There are perhaps a half dozen pitchers in both major leagues who are not soft picking as batsmen.

It is seldom that a pitcher is select- ed for the role of pinch hitter. That is the part essayed by Fred Heimach, crack southpaw of Connie Mack's pitching staff. Fred not only can pitch but hit almost as well.

During the spring training Heimach played the outfield in a number of games for the Athletics. His work in the field and at the bat just about convinced Manager Mack that he would do as an outfielder, even if he failed to make the grade as a pitcher.

This year Heimach has arrived with a vengeance. He is one of the most dependable pitchers on Mack's staff. In addition he holds down the role of pinch hitter any time Mack wants to send in a substitute batter against a right-handed pitcher. Heimach hits and throws left handed.

St. Louis—George Sisler watched the Browns-Yankee game Friday from a box in the upper tier of the stand. He has discarded the black glasses of the kind which blind men wear and seems to have improved considerably. But the star first baseman has not begun to practice, in spite of reports to the contrary.

His turned eye is gradually adjust- ing itself to a normal pivot and no longer is twisted almost completely around. The great weight which in- lost in the early months of his illness doesn't manifest itself.

But considerable doubt still exist- as to the time when he will be able to return to the game. He hopes this will be soon, but is in no position to speak with definiteness.

Attendance has fallen off because of the loss of Sisler, resulting in the Browns not showing anywhere near as well as last year.

WEBER BUILDING TO BE MOVED TO NEW FOUNDATION

Louis Weber's building at the corner of Richmond-st. and College-ave. the site of which was recently sold to the Standard Oil company for a filling station, is about to be removed to State-st. where a new foundation awaits it. In the transfer Mr. Weber retained the structure and will convert it into a residence which he will occupy. Work upon the new filling station will be commenced as soon as the building is out of the way.

Farm Improvements
Extensive building improvements are being made on three adjoining farms on the Town Line-rd. Green-ville. Thomas Long is having a cement floor in his barn and building a concrete silo. John Cotter is hauling material for the erection of a concrete silo on his farm. Francis Farrell is building an addition to his silo.

DEATHS

JOHN H. SIMPSON
John H. Simpson, son of the late Albert Simpson, one of the pioneers of the town of Osborn, is dead in Washington, D. C., where he had been an employee of the government for 39 years. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon in Washington. Mr. Simpson was born in Batavia, N. Y., in 1851 and the next year his parents brought him to Oshkosh, Wis., where he grew up. He graduated from the state normal school in Oshkosh and Columbia university in Washington and was one of the early teachers in this state. Mr. Simpson was supervisor of Indian schools in Oklahoma for many years. Survivors include the widow, two brothers and a sister. The brothers are A. C. Simpson and Charles S. Simpson and the sister is Mrs. Kate S. Rhoades, all of Appleton.

CANTILLON FUNERAL
Funeral services for James Cantillon, Northwestern Railway official, for many years a resident of Kaukauna, were held at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning from the home of his late wife's aunt, Mrs. William Kober, at Janesville. The bearers were schoolmates of Mr. Cantillon. The funeral party arrived at Janesville Thursday night from Los Angeles, Calif., where the railroad official died the previous Sunday.

MRS. CLAYTON G. TURNER
Mrs. Clayton G. Turner, 53, nee Georgia Lawrence, a former resident of Appleton, died Saturday at Ironwood, Mich. The body will be conveyed here for burial. Services will be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with Dr. J. A. Holmes in charge.

Mrs. Turner came to Appleton from Burnett. Her father conducted a meat market here for a number of years. She moved to Ironwood later.

DRUNK SENT TO JAIL FOR 20 DAYS FOR SHOWING GUN

Albert Peotter Arrested When Family Notifies Police

Twenty days in the county jail—and a $10 fine. That was the difference in the sentences imposed by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Tuesday morning on George Braeger and Albert Peotter, both arrested for drunkenness. But whereas Braeger, a railroad man, was merely drunk, according to Chief George T. Prim and Officer John Kobussen who found the man in precarious condition on Durkee-st. Monday evening, Peotter's offense was made more serious by the brandishing of two guns.

Patrolman Herbert Kapp and Driver John Kussen were called out to 904 Spring-st. when the inmates of that home became frightened by the drunken man's actions. A revolver was taken away from him, and when he was brought to the police station he was divested of another revolver and two boxes of cartridges. It was he that received the 20-day sentence.

BLACK CREEK TILE COMPANY INCORPORATES

Articles of incorporation have been filed with Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state, and recorded in the office of A. G. Koch, register of deeds, by the Black Creek Tile company, manufacturing concrete drainage tiles and other concrete products. The company is located at Black Creek and was incorporated with a capital of $7,000. The incorporators are George J. Riehl, F. A. Brandt and A. E. Woody.

PLUMBERS BUSY, CITY INSPECTOR REPORT SHOWS

A visible increase in the number of residents installing plumbing fixtures is reported by John Bauer, city plumbing inspector. During June he issued 80 permits and collected fees in the sum of $150. During May he issued 52 permits.

The work authorized by the permits is as follows: Water closets, 70; floor drains, 50; wash basins, 43; conductors, 6; sinks, 52; bath tubs, 41; laundry tubs, 2; shower baths, 3.

MOONSHINER GETS 30-DAY SENTENCE

Dabbling in the moonshine business cost George Gottenlochner, 100 West Tenth-st., Kaukauna, 30 days in the county jail, following a raid on his premises by Chief R. H. McCarty and Officer James McFadden and Gottenlochner's conviction of that crime. He was sentenced Monday afternoon by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court. A five-gallon still, 30 gallons of mash and a half gallon of moonshine whisky were found on the premises.

ASSAULT CHARGE DROPPED ON PAYMENT OF COSTS

George Lehman of Deer Creek, who was charged with assault and battery, was ordered by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday afternoon to pay the court costs in the case, which amounted to $3.40, and was thereupon discharged. The complaint was made by Woodsee T. Gibbs, upon whom the assault was committed last Friday.

Opens Next Monday—Continues for Two Weeks—Closes July 28th

HE SUMMER FAIR starts Monday. Similar events have been produced on a less elaborate scale by several large stores of the country. Pettibone's will present the largest Fair yet attempted by Stores of the United States. The decoration department is now building seventy-three booths and exhibits. The entire four floors and basement of the main Pettibone building will be transformed into an intensely interesting Fair. The outstanding manufacturers of the country will have displays of their products. The Store will have two moving picture theatres. Demonstrations of all kinds will be presented daily on the various floors of the store.

Museum Collection of Umbrellas
Once Owned by Historic Personages

One of yesterday's arrivals was a museum collection of rare umbrellas—one of the only collections of this kind in existence. The collection includes umbrellas owned by Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Washington Irving, nobles of the court of Louis XIV, A. T. Stewart, and others. Many of these umbrellas are made of beautiful carved ivory—some have ribs of whalebone. One is of ivory and gold. The umbrella collection is just one wonderful exhibit you will see at Pettibone's next week.

Members of the court of the "grand whiskerino" will be named, their ranking depending on the length of hirsute appendage.

ELKS CHOOSE NEW CHIEF AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga.—James G. McFarland of Waterbury, S. D., was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks Tuesday. His name was presented by Governor H. W. McFadden of South Dakota.

Mr. McFarland, in accepting the office said: "We as Elks stand committed to defend our country and constitution against attacks of Bolshevism. I, W. W. McFadden and others of the ilk that would break it down, and the splendid resolution on the walls of every subordinate lodge emblazon this resolve. We must be alive to the dangerous and misguided isms of the present day that would tear up real democracy by the roots."

Boston was chosen as the 1924 convention city following the election of officers. Portland, Ore., and Milwaukee, Wis., had been discussed as bidders for the honor.
